I was born in the city of York, in the year of 1632. My father was a merchant who was not only wealthy but also very wise. His name was Kreutznauer, but every one called him Crusoe. He married my mother whose family name was Robinson. That is how I got my name Robinson Crusoe.

As a boy I was very keen to go to sea, but my parents wanted me to stay at home and become a lawyer. So, for some time, I tried to be content but my desire to become a sailor and see the great world was very strong. I decided that I would run away from home.

One day at the sea port of Hull, I met a friend who was going to London in one of his father's ships. He asked me to go with him saying that the journey would cost me nothing. Forgetting even to send a message to my father, I set sail for London.
