Q1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: (ANY FIVE)
(1×5=5)

Not all the lights in the sky that we see are really stars. Of course, we see the moon. Some of the other lights in the sky are planets. Planets revolve around the sun like earth does.

Once in a while someone will see what they call a shooting star. A shooting star looks like a star that is moving quickly across the sky. Some people believe that seeing a shooting star will bring them good luck. It's hard to find a shooting star because they disappear fast.

The correct name for a shooting star is meteor. Space has a lots of little objects like rocks or dust particles. These objects are called meteorites. When a meteorite gets close to the earth, it gets pulled towards earth by gravity. A meteorite glows up in the earth's atmosphere. This makes the short bright moving light in the night sky. A meteorite turns into a meteor.
